The Complete Resource Guide for Property Developers and Construction Decision Makers

BuildingBermuda magazine showcases exceptional examples of recently completed building projects. Each building is featured in its own special section, written and designed to highlight the unique challenges and complexities presented by the development and the innovative solutions used by the project team to create the best new buildings.

Every angle of the project is covered with in-depth, expert analysis through interviews with the owner/developer, architects, engineers, contractors and other suppliers. Full colour, high quality photography gives an insiders' tour of the featured buildings.

There will also be an in-depth analysis of the current state of property development, the impact the financial crisis is having on future developments and how this will impact the construction industry over the coming months and years. Extensive interviews with industry insiders, experts and leaders will provide a detailed perspective on where the industry is now and where it's headed.

BuildingBermuda is the guide to who has done what in each project, creating a proud record of the project team and an exceptionally useful reference for developers in years to come. BuildingBermuda is the source book for the industry.

This is a unique opportunity to showcase your firm and its special services and products.

BuildingBermuda is distributed free of charge to: CEOs/Presidents, building owners and managers, developers, investors, general contractors, construction managers, purchasing managers, estimators, architects, engineering firms, accounting firms, law firms, real estate agents, consultants and many more.
